Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Wednesday 24 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Drier and brighter on Wednesday, but still some rain.

Today:
Cloudy start with perhaps some rain in east, but mostly dry and bright with some sunny spells developing, especially in north and west, though a few showers. Becoming cloudier in afternoon with outbreaks of rain developing, but southwest winds easing. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy with rain at first but becoming dry through the evening with long clear spells developing. Cloudier later in night with a few showers in northwest. Southwest winds freshening again. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Thursday:
Bright or sunny spells, but a few showers, these mostly in the northwest and over high ground. Fresh southwest winds at first but turning westerly and easing. Sill mild. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
High pressure building from south, so generally dry and bright with some sunshine, but cloudy Friday night and at first Saturday with some rain as a weather front brushes by.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.